WEBWIRE – Saturday, June 30, 2012

Russ Glickman, owner of Glickman Design Build, & Wayne Jackson, construction manager have been selected by Remodeling magazine to join the Remodeling Big50.

The Big50 awards were presented at a gala dinner at the Remodeling Leadership Conference in Baltimore, MD on May 11, 2012. The 2012 Big50 winners are featured in the May issue of Remodeling, a national trade publication read by more than 80,000 professional remodeling contractors.

Each year since 1986, the Remodeling Big50 inducts 50 owners of remodeling companies that have set exceptionally high standards for professionalism and integrity through exemplary business practices, craftsmanship, and impact in their community or the industry at large. Big50 remodelers run successful, often growing, companies of various sizes that have taken the lead in raising industry standards.

The Big50 selection process has become increasingly rigorous in recent years, and the result, Remodeling editors believe, is one of the strongest classes to date. All 2012 inductees "stood up to detailed examinations of their businesses and their books, and they all demonstrated an admirably deft ability to restructure, retrench, and flat-out hustle to remain viable in a challenging economic climate," according to Remodeling.

"We are quite honored to receive this distinction," says Russ Glickman, owner of Glickman Design Build. "The award recognizes excellence and leadership, and we are privileged to be named to this select group of remodelers."

Remodeling editors, columnists, industry leaders, and the companies themselves make the nominations each year. Following a lengthy evaluation and interview process, the editors select the 50 individuals who exemplify the best of the industry that year, and who have something to offer other remodelers in proven practices. Winners are selected in these categories: business savvy, fine design, industry impact, market wise, movers & shakers, niches, sales & marketing, and teamwork. Russ Glickman was selected for the category of Universal Design.

Quick Facts

Glickman Design Build's expertise in, and reputation for, building beautiful and high-functioning homes in Washington, DC; Northern Virginia; and Montgomery County, Maryland spans over 33 years. We are one of a small number of firms in the United States specializing in building and remodeling homes to make them user-friendly. Everything we do is custom planned and built for your current and future needs. Sustainable designs include "green" features and planning that will reduce future waste and eliminate the need to "re-model" in the future should you plan to stay. We also have special expertise in design to accommodate special needs via Better Living Design, or universal design, and wheelchair-friendly accessible design, remodeling, and building.

Savvy owners consider changes needed in today's design to maximize future resale value. Today's homeowners understand the increasing demand for housing options needed to satisfy changing needs of the ever growing population of aging Baby Boomers. Glickman is one of a handful of builders with personal experience and the required certifications to maximize current esthetics while providing for future needs, including resale value.

Remodeling, published by Hanley Wood, LLC, is the leading publication in the home improvement industry. Designed to address the specific concerns of residential remodeling pros, the magazine is both a business tool and an industry leader for a market that reached $278 billion in 2011.
